

If your country is not in the following list, you will need to obtain a Residence Permit before arriving in Buenos Aires. The University must request a permission for entry (permiso de ingreso) from the immigration authorities. This document costs and can take from 1 to 3 months. To obtain the permission for entry the student must request it to the International Relations department at Universidad de Belgrano and must submit its payment. Universidad de Belgrano will then start the process with Immigration authorities and will inform the student, so that he contacts the Argentinean Consulate to continue with the request.
